

The National Association of State Energy Officials

Affiliate Membership Program

The National Association of State Energy Officials (NASEO) was created by the nation's Governors as an "instrumentality of the states" to improve the effectiveness and quality of state energy programs and policies. For more than a decade, NASEO has provided leadership on energy issues and serves as the Washington voice of state and territorial energy offices to help set energy priorities at the Federal level.

The fifty-six state and territorial energy offices that comprise NASEO's membership together spend hundreds of millions of dollars per year on energy projects that range from improving efficiency in residential, commercial, industrial, and government buildings, to fostering efficient energy production technologies, to promoting wind, solar, and biomass projects. Other NASEO initiatives include energy emergencies and security, energy-environmental integration, and fuel supply.

A company's or institution's contribution to NASEO helps provide funding to support NASEO's educational, communication and state assistance programs. The NASEO Affiliate Members Program promotes the exchange of ideas between member companies, associations and institutions, and state energy directors and officials offering unparalleled access and dialogue on topics of mutual interest. Benefits of Affiliate Membership include:

- Representation on the NASEO Board of Directors. Affiliate members select a chair who holds a non-voting seat on the Board of Directors which meets quarterly.
- Participation in NASEO Committees and Task Forces. Buildings; Energy Production; Industrial, Energy, Environment and Transportation; Agriculture and Rural Development; Energy Star; Energy Data and Security; and Government Affairs.
- Providing background information for NASEO initiatives and helping states develop tools to illustrate the economic benefits of energy conservation, efficiency, exploration, and development. NASEO will facilitate Affiliate-state partnerships to analyze and document energy savings, job growth, and environmental benefits.
- Involvement in planning NASEO's Annual Meeting and Winter Conference. Affiliate members select a representative to plan the content of the conferences.

Other Benefits of Membership

- Public recognition (via the NASEO website and materials at the Winter Conference and Annual Meeting) of a company's commitment to good public policy and positive corporate citizenship.
- One pre-paid registration to both the Winter Conference and the Annual Meeting.
- Discounted exhibitor or sponsor fees at the Annual Meeting and Winter Conference.
- A quarterly NASEO calendar of events and news on policy initiatives in the states.
- Briefings with NASEO senior staff on NASEO projects and initiatives.
- Website and use of NASEO listservs for no-advertising purposes.
- Upon request, access to NASEO's database of all members, meeting attendees and others in the energy community.
